THISTLE RIDGE RANCH

BULL SALE

MARCH 27, 2020 • 3PM

Welcome...

Welcome to our 14th Annual Bull Sale!

It's once again a pleasure to welcome one and all to our 14th Annual Bull Sale. Times are changing around us but the great people in the cattle business always remain the same year in and out. It's truly is an honor to work with you and for you in this great industry.

The cattle are once again being fed at TFS Fincastle, and we would like to thank the crew there for their hard work and patience in dealing with the picky purebred guy who always needs a little extra bedding on a weekend.

Bulls look great. They are not carrying any excessive fat, in fact the Charolais could always use a little more, but their longevity is what we really have in mind. So far, our bulls have lasted in every environment we've sold them into, and as I attribute most of that to good genetics, I also believe they are fresh and athletic and ready to go to work.

This year as always we will have a crew of very capable cattleman if you wish to speak to someone else about a certain bull. Please feel free to call them and use them. Perlich Auction will be managing the sale, so feel free to call Bob, Darcy, or Johnny. Mark Stock will once again be ringside. OBI is on board with Mark, Roger, and Jesse Emery now in the lair. And last but certainly not least, Mark Shologun from DLMS is available as well.

Please consider this a personal invitation to one and all to come out on the 27th of March. Great set of bulls to view, and a great steak supper with refreshments after.

Thanks,

Ben & Carol Tams

29 • CHAROLAIS BULLS

A note on our calving ease score.

I've seen this used before in other catalogs and I really like the idea. Not only does it give you a really good view point on how the bull should calve, but it's also another way to make us accountable. So here's how I score them.

★ Cow bull. Period.

★★ Recommended primarily for cows. If you only have a few heifers mixed in you can get away with it, but do expect to probably help them.

★★★ Heifer bull. I would personally use these bulls on my heifers with no second thoughts.

★ ★ ★ ★ These bulls have generations of calving ease bred in, and should calve any type of heifer with absolutely no assistance.

Please note that a 3 Star Charolais bull is rated as used on Charolais heifers. I am still not comfortable recommending them on Angus heifers that I don't know. **

Red Gene Carriers...

A quick explanation on how the red gene is passed on

If you breed a black red gene carrier to black cows with no red gene, you will get black calves. If some of your cows are black, but do have the red gene, then you have a 25% chance of getting a red calf. If you breed a black red gene carrier to red cows then you have a 50% chance of getting red calves. If you breed a red bull, with black in its pedigree to red cows, they will always be red calves. Red bred to red will always be red.

Understanding Ultrasound

In order to use body composition EPD's or ultrasound data to its full potential, a breeder must have an understanding of ultrasound terminology. Several of the ultrasound measurements are comparable to the familiar carcass measurements. The data is simply collected on yearling bullsa and heifers instead of market ready steers. Take a step back from looking at the numbers and become comfortable with the terminology.

ULTRASOUND CARCASS MEASUREMENTS

RibFat/Backfat: An external fat measurement taken between the 12th and 13th rib reported in inches. Rib fat is the main trait that affects percent lean meat yield ie; A1, A2, A3 & A4. Percent lean meat yield is the calculation that estimates the percent of lean muscle on the carcass. For example, a lean meat yield of 60% on a 100lb carcass would have 600 lbs of lean muscle and 400 lbs of bone and fat.

Ribeye Area (REA): An area measurement of the loin or ribeye muscle. Reported in square inches. While an increase in backfat wil lower the percent lean meat yield an increase in REA will raise the percent lean meat yield.

Rump Fat: An external fat measurement taken from an image collected between the hooks and the pins of the animal.Reported in inches. The rump fat measurement, coupled with the rib fat measurement will increase the accuracy of percent lean meat yield.

Intramuscular Fat (%IMF)/Marbling: This measurement determines the amount of fat within the muscle. Reported in %. This measurement us used to determine the quality grade of the carcass.
