Wayne
Burgess

Wayne's Journey in the Purebred Beef Industry began during his youth in Ontario. After relocating to Alberta in the mid-'80s, he embarked onto a career path revolving around beef cattle. Wayne managed seedstock operations and artificial insemination programs, gaining valuable experience in breeding and genetics. He also owned and successfully operated a sales management business, connecting breeders and buyers, while also publishing the Limousin Voice, the national breed magazine. Wayne and his wife Anne owns a select group of elite Limousin and Hereford cattle in partnership with breeders across five provinces. Their dedication extends to participating in prestigious events like the Royal, Farmfair, and Agribition, where they've earned notable recognition. Wayne's commitment to the industry extends beyond owning cattle. He served as the past president of the Canadian Limousin Association board and remains an active Rotarian in the Rotary Club of Olds.
