4-H Quality Speaks For Itself

When you buy a 4-H market animal you are buying the finest quality meat possible. Members give the utmost care and attention to their projects right from the start, and the quality speaks for itself. Animals are all finished by local youth contributing to sustainable food chains. The foods, small engines, honeybee and garden projects have been produced with diligence and skill under the guidance of leaders. Anything backed by the 4-H name can only be described as "NEAR TO PERFECT" as you can get.

Homegrown: if an animal is raised on the member's family's ranch

What do you do when you buy an animal? Williams Lake District 4-H will take care of shipping your animal to the abattoir (butcher) at no additional cost. You only need to contact your chosen abattoir with your cut and wrap instructions. Then you can pick up your meat products when they are ready. If you purchase a foods, small engine or garden project, you can collect it directly after the sale or make arrangements with the member for a later date.

Raised by our hands

The 4-H Pledge

I pledge
My head to clearer thinking,
My heart to greater loyalty,
My hands to larger service,
My health to better living,
For my club, my community,
my country, and my world.

Gather More Around Your Table

Have you worried that a 4-H animal would produce too much meat for you to eat? In true 4-H fashion you can embrace your community and bring more folks to your table. Ask your neighbour to go half in buying an animal with you. Employers often give a turkey as a Christmas bonus to employees. Why not consider beef, pork, and/or lamb? Package up some steak, roasts, a few pounds of hamburger or chops, and give that instead. Some local businesses even have a staff or customer appreciation barbeque featuring 4-H meat. Good meat will always find its way onto a plate.

For your table
