Dual Lloyd (Dually) is a 2022 gelding that's a grandson of dual pep goes back to Peppy san badger on the top and bottom, stands 14.3 hh right now, I picked him up as a long yearling from the Gould Ranch by Carman mb, me and the kids brought him along slowly as a 2 year old with daily handling, ground work and some riding but we didn't push him, this year we took him to Oklahoma in January and used him to help our friends tag calves in the calving pasture down there and started tracking the roping dummy, this spring we hauled him to 4 different brandings, used him to gather and sort cows, and drag calves to the fire, knows to work rope when tying off, he's been hauled around to some rodeos as well, I've heeled a handful of steers out of the box on him, travels good, eats on the road, loads good, stands tied anywhere, good for farrier, this gelding will really excel in the roping pen as he has lots of run, rate and really watches a cow, he is as broke as a 3 year old can be, the kids always jump on bareback with a halter to bring him to the barn, easy to catch anywhere any time, good handle on him, good stop and turnaround, knows his leads, no scars or blemishes, good feet on him, ready to finish your way.

This powerhouse sorrel filly is bred to fly and built to last. With a deep hip, correct structure, and a confident, athletic way of moving, she's everything you want in a future barrel prospect. She carries the speed and legacy of Top Moon, one of the most influential sires in AQHA history, known for passing on explosive quickness and competitive heart. This filly's dam is all of 15.3hh and she is expected to mature into a big, strong mare with the bone, mind, and motor to excel in the barrel pen. She's the kind that makes a futurity contender and turns into a long-term 1D athlete with the heart to keep hauling. Not interested in chasing cans, this one will run one down in the pasture for you. Here's a filly that checks every box; athleticism, heart, and heritage. This classy Appendix filly comes from the same mare line as our home raised wagon horses; tough, fast, and gritty. A lineage where performance isn't just expected, it's required. Her dam line has pulled the wagons, outrun the herd, and stayed sound doing it. Bred for speed, stamina, and durability, she carries the heart and horsepower to go all day and turn around and do it again tomorrow. Whether you're looking for your next barrel prospect, rope horse, or performance partner, this filly has the bone, build, and mind to go the distance. Floating on a stride that screams athletic potential, she's the kind that gets noticed. Raised with the same grit and go, she's bred to perform, built to last. CBHI Eligable. "Waylon" Bred from Sonrise quarter horses. Some incredible horses right on this guys papers including TWO EYED JACK and PLAYGUN! Waylon was very handled from when he was young and started his training with 60 days as 2 year old, he got trail rode that year but mostly let him grow up. Stands 15.2 and still growing very straight legs and correct conformation, has lots of filling out to do. Waylon's career started in early winter (2025) as 3 year old. Since then he's become a very reliable ranch mount. Ranching comes very natural to this guy. All the hard work and training is done and he's ready to be used as #1 ranch mount. Many long miles through rough terrain checking fence, logs, creeks, thick bush, dug outs. Great to handle, ties, self loads, great to trim, great to deworm, shots, bathes, easy to catch. Very laid back temperament, in your pocket type. nothing spooks him, more whoa then go. Solid walk, trot lope, has fancy buttons, neck reins, good stop. Has many brandings/dragging calves under his belt. Very cowy, ropes caves, large cows and can tie off and treat animals. Great to tie in the barn alone. Never taken a lame step in his life, no blemishes. No bad habits or quirks. No buck, bolt or funny business.

Up to date 2025: deworming, trims, shots, teeth and chiropractic.

He will continue to get rode in pasture until day of sale any questions regarding him please call Wyatt bangle 204-207-0217
