Welcome

It is with excitement we invite you the Home Coming Edition of our Spring Select Simmental Bull and Female Sale! For our 13th annual sale, we are finally bringing the venue home to the ranch in our new sales facility on March 7th at 4:30PM MST, with dinner and a social to follow! We will once again utilize a video sale format, hosted by DLMS.ca to minimize handling stress on the animals, and provide a more spacious pen viewing arrangement for assessing animals throughout the day.

Our 2026 offering of bulls is as consistent as we have raised, with temperament, longevity, and efficiency built and bred into each animal. Calving ease options are in abundance this year both in phenotype and on paper with several animals EPD's being above average in all traits. Consistency across all sire groups is intact, and new additions from IPU 178J Top Tier, and FTF Louie 556L are very impressive. With an abundance of replacement females in our keeper pen, new for this year is an offering of open replacement heifers sold in groups as commercial females. This is a unique opportunity to acquire a sampling of the maternal traits we enjoy in our herd. We believe in genetic testing and quality data collection/reporting, and personally use these EPD's to make educated and informed decisions in the investments we make when procuring new animals for our herd. To this point all data points are religiously collected throughout the respective reporting periods, and all bulls are genetic tested for PV, Homo Poll, Dilution, and Homo Black as applicable for the specific animal.

The cattle industry is built on relationships, and our business depends on repeat customers, who frequently become good friends. We are an honest and consistent family-based producer, hinging on ranch-based principles applied to all aspects of our seedstock program. We raise real world cattle grown on bush range with very little tame grass access. The cattle are built hard, and cope with tough terrain, weather and heavy predator loading. Temperament, feet, legs and udders are all in tact in the cow herd, and we ruthlessly cull each year to ensure this is the case. We don't trim feet. All animals have been worked off horse back, and are familiar with that program. Cattle are worth record value and your investments in seedstock demand return. For this reason, longevity is top of mind when developing our animals; we strive to provide an animal that will work for many seasons, eventually retiring for the same or near value that you initially invested. You will find fatter bulls on the sale trail this spring, but FTF animals will go to work, hold their shape, and last. We pail feed bulls a pellet and barley mix daily (12-15lbs), and use our TMR for a silage/straw blend that is bunk fed, to ensure a high roughage/fibre diet, sure not to damage bull's structural integrity in the crucial development months.

We are truly grateful for all buyers and bidders, new and repeat, along with those simply interested in our program. Visitors are always welcome so please come out to the ranch, and be sure to swing by the new sale location and enjoy the day's festivities.

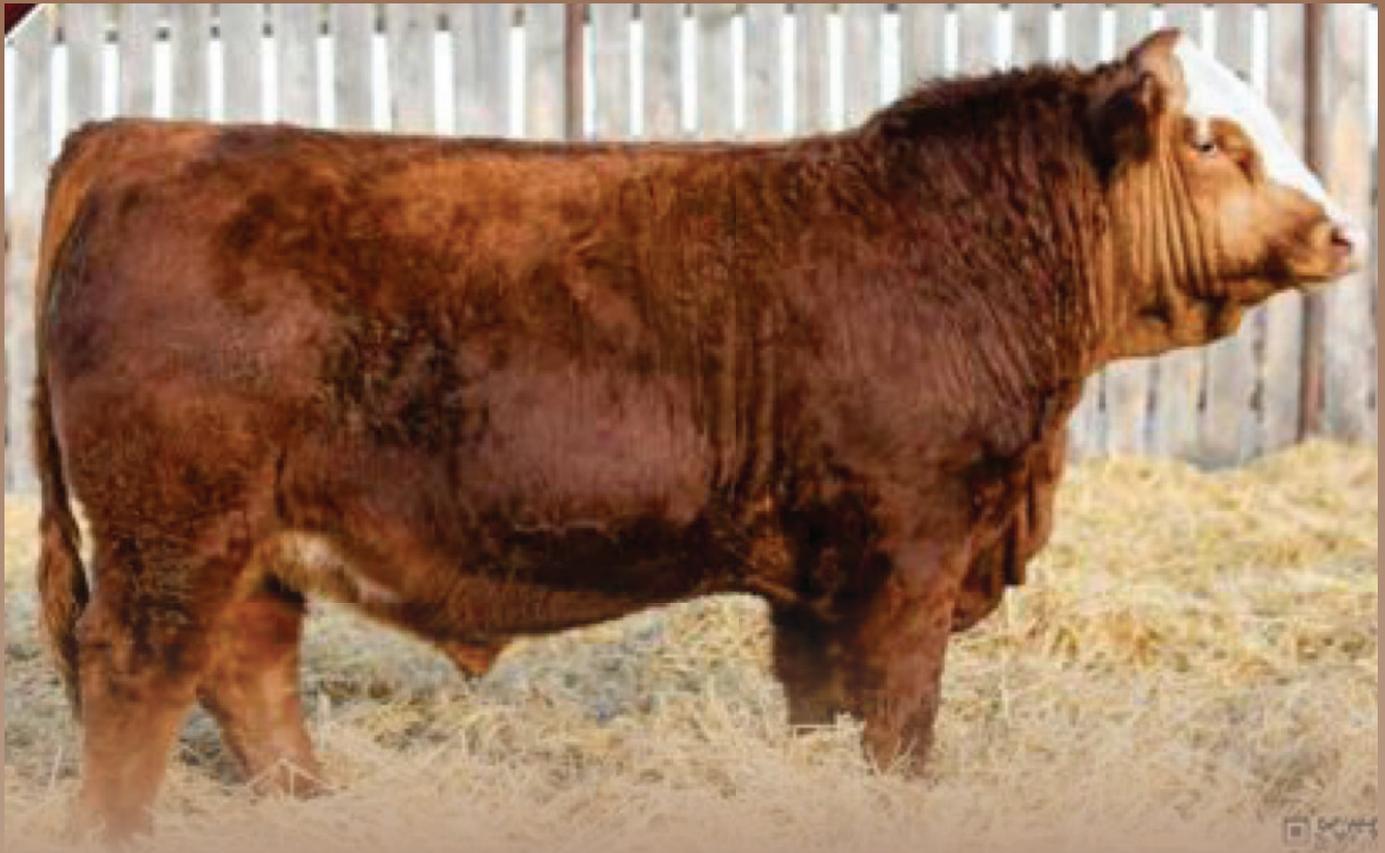

Respectfully,

Chet, Jamie, Taos, Rhett & Nash Jans

Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. Our lead off lot in the offering this year is a ripper of an Authenticator son off of one of my favorite Capone females FTF 730H. Manhattan is long, deep, full of middle, big topped, and moves out with ease. Being a standout at every age class this year, 206M was easy for visitors to find on pasture. The added chrome stripe on his attractive skull is icing on the cake. On the maternal side 730H is a great uddered big footed girl, that holds up in the worst conditions, always keeping great condition, while raising a big calf. The ingredients are all here for your next herd sire, backed by a great EPD set, so be sure to star this guy sale day.

Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. Maarty is likely the biggest topped bull in the pen this season. Crest to tailhead - he is wide and muscular, tanky built throughout, but light footed and swift in his movement. Backed from a cornerstone never miss Flat Rock female, his maternal traits are locked right in. His namesake is for Jamie's Brother-in-law who came up with his wife Jess last winter at the onset of calving when I was down in the ICU for a week... He was sure the old flat rock female was calving for a good week straight so we absolutely had to name the calf after him! Maarty the bull's EPD spread is fantastic, as most Authenticator progeny are.

His profile on paper sure seems to have bred true into him, with an outstanding sleek front third, tidy skull and long spine. 234N's dam is a big middled black female out of the great MRL program, with a good square udder and foot. We breed authenticator to big tanky cows like 239N's dam in efforts to moderate the progeny and prospect this bloodline for use on second calver's. coming from our great 648G Capone female. His momma has had many admirers over years, and here again, backing to the legendary 12U cow, the outcome on this Bull is predictable. If you are in the market this year for a blaze face bull, and intend to build replacement females, especially those that will work trouble free for years and years, please analyse this bull, and be sure to study his EPD's.

Scurred/Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. This year marks the 1st set of Louie progeny to sell, and leading off the set with Mammoth is a great way to introduce this exciting bloodline. Hitting the ground in a chilli winter December day at 76lbs, Mammoth never looked back in his growth curve, clipping right along with his fantastic first calf heifer authenticator momma. Likely one of the longest spined bulls in the pen, 189M has style and substance throughout, and like all of his brothers, the temperament is fantastic! His momma cow is a real looker and was on the initial selection list for the World Simmental Sale in Olds last year. We are sure happy we held onto her, as her first calf is a ripper!

I would suspect he breed true to his pedigree as his sire, Louie, sure has been a nice bull to use in our heifer pen. The calves come trouble free and quick, with unrivaled vigor so welcome when calving heifers. Post birth these calves grow like weeds, competing right with our performance bloodlines. On the dam side of Manta – his Stratton sired 3K dam is a sweetheart, tracing back to our old 4A cow still working hard in the herd today! Longevity, maternal, calving ease, Manta has it all.

Louie sons with appearance so similar it would be hard to tell who is who without tags on. Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. My personal favorite Louie son, and one admired to date by all who have been through the bull pen. Mighty is a real looker, and the sort of heifer pen candidate bull that doesn't give up an inch in his make-up as a bull. Tank was at side in the spring show, and at achievement day and he received Reserve Champion for the pair. Tank is naturally a really friendly Louie son, that grew into a real buddy over the winter-feeding season. He is a frame size larger than his other Homo Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. Our middle son Rhett's lead off Purebred bull is a real sale feature, with a clean front third, smooth shoulder, and extra length of spine, Nikko screams calving ease. He is a really well muscled bull that is deceptively powerful in his hind quarter with muscling that extends deep towards his hock. His dam was Rhett's Junior Cattlemen project last year with Nikko at side, and Rhett took home Grand Champion for this pair, with a lot of extra emphasis judged on this calf. His damn is a sweetheart liver red girl, back to foundation female in our herd, 112B, that carries that same hair coat. If you are looking for some dark red calves Nikko is one worth checking out.

Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. Noble came about through the purchase of a bred heifer from the KT Ranches production sale in 2024. His pedigree is absolutely stacked, and one that astute cattlemen should study: Missile, Darlin, Walk the Line, Venom, Statement, Shamrock...wow – it isn't too often you see them stacked in there like that. This bull is a real heifer pen prospect and one that has the pedigree to back his EPD's up. We always hope for heifers when buying bred's so we can enjoy some of the maternal outcross potential in our herd, and we are sure excited to see what is in store for Noble at his new ranch. His dam is a solid built girl, with lots of middle and great legs, carrying a lot of common features to the other Walk the Line progeny out working in industry.

Homo Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. Don't let his name fool you, because this fella is a cool customer at the trough. A Mr. Jones calf here with a near perfect blaze face, 219M has the qualities associated with calving ease. He has a silky-smooth front third and small skull, with a nice middle on him that is really developing. His dam's first outing was in some of the most extreme pasture conditions we have exposed our females to, and she took it all in stride. Being a Daredevil, back to the old Apricot cow, hardiness is drilled in, so do-ability should pass on through with 219M.

Homo Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. Our first set of calves off a new Top Tier walking sire we purchased from the great folks at LaBatte Simmentals, are sure to draw attention on sale day. They are very uniform in make, and will likely be a challenge to write unique descriptions for as they are so similar. Maddox leads this set off and he is a very nice red bull, with lots of top, quarter and hair. He is a well-suited bull for a northern range where miles matter as he moves extremely well. Maddox is a group sort of bull that always respects you, waiting his turn at the trough when pail feeding, but isn't coming for a scratch. The dam to 203M is a rock-solid blaze female that has a great udder, and traces back to one of our legacy black cows 111B, that was picture perfect.

Long, deep, hairy, big gutted and deep quartered, 'Natural' is just that; everything fits with him, including his excellent disposition. I've mentioned it a few times now, but our young boys are very hands on with daily chores, so when a big yearling bull like Natural, is so approachable on the ground, it makes ranch life very enjoyable. Ribs that stretch for miles, and a long clean front third, makes me think this guy will add some pounds to a calf crop. Really great dark feet and nice leg set attributed from both sire and dam, are certainly some traits I would think will propagate to a replacement pen. With our boys doing a lot of the pail feeding on their own each night, there truly isn't a bull in the pen that has a temperament of concern, but 275N would fit best in a group, as he isn't coming for scratches at the feed truck.

Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. This black edition Madden is very cool! Massive in make, with huge quarter, a major league top and so much performance built into him, he is truly a fullblood in a black coat. His dam, 452E is a tanky black Arizona female, with huge feet and an awesome udder, raising many calves of note over the years. I sure appreciate the performance in this calf, and with such a balanced EPD spread, with dilution free status, I think this blend introduced into a group of black cattle would be amazing.

Scurred/Polled Purebred. Dilution Free. Black Madden with the sought after 'money-stripe', is National. A big topped bull that has had a lot of friends to date on bull pen tours. His black blaze dam is the right size, with ample frame, big feet and an awesome udder. I expect this guy will put some size into a group of calves without any calving trouble, as he comes from a long line of similarly made cattle.

Horned Fullblood. Dilution Free. Ninja is a smooth made, calving ease prospect that is balanced in his make, and posses an excellent EPD spread. The Wolfe's dam is a moderately made Broker female, with lots of spine. That length translated through to 291N, along with the goggles. We lost Madden a couple summer's ago, so this is his final calf crop, and your last chance at some straightforward honest fullblood genetics that just plain work.

FALLEN TIMBER FARMS

Commercial Heifers

Lot 45-47

With our herd growing and the replacement heifer pen bigger than ever, we have decided to group 3 lots of 3-4 similarly coloured females on offer in this year's sale. Our entire herd is registered Simmental stock, so these ladies are all purebreds that will be selling as commercial replacements to provide our commercial customers with an opportunity to access our maternal traits in bulk packages. The heifers have all been developed in a group, with strict Total Herd health protocol, and grown on an oat silage/haylage TMR blend, with extra roughage via fescue aftermath. We want these cattle to work for many years, so longevity is top of mind in our replacement pen, and level headed temperament is a must. Our pen is deep in quality and very uniform this year, so at the time of catalogue print we still can't decide exactly which ladies will be on offer. This is a good sign for the prospective purchasers as the groups will be high quality, and very hard for us to part with.
