WELCOME

The cattle market has held exceptionally steady over the past year, with top highs going to buckskin and silver Charolais-cross calves. Heavy finishing cattle are the new norm, and the industry knows the advantage that thick, high-yielding French-influenced genetics are bringing.

This year was the complete opposite of last summer. With record rainfalls, haylage was plentiful, and pastures were lush and green, resulting in incredibly consistent, high-gaining calves. The vast majority of the bulls gained well over 3.0 lbs a day, and several broke the 4.0 lb barrier on grass. In early September, they were brought home and vaccinated, then started on creep feed until they were weaned and weighed at the end of September. Because our sale is in November, we will winter the bull calves for you and begin deliveries in March.

This catalogue is packed with bulls offering tremendous weight gains, clean muscle expression, heavy haircoats, and proven maternal backing. Do not wait to secure your herd's future—get these powerful bulls into your lineup on November 28, 2026, and in your pasture by spring.

The Valanjou story

In 1951, Henri and Odette Lusson emigrated from France's Anjou region to build a ranch near Clyde, Alberta. Starting with Herefords, they introduced their first purebred Charolais bull in 1964 for bigger, meatier carcasses, naming the herd Valanjou—a blend of Vallée and Anjou. In September 1967, the same year their son Philippe was born, they officially established Valanjou Charolais by purchasing a dispersed herd of registered females.

In 1970, Henri imported five females and foundation sire Gascon from France, establishing bloodlines still anchoring the herd today. Over 25 years, he supplied commercial bulls across northern Alberta while proving Full French feedlot gain and rail value—capturing two Reserve Grand Champion carcass steers at the Edmonton Fat Steer Spring Show (1976, 1981) and Grand and Reserve steer titles at Farmfair alongside his children's 4-H steers.

Taking over the 50-cow herd in 1993, Philippe tapped into newly reopened French semen imports (Till 2000, Casoar) and exported females to Mexico until the May 2003 BSE border closure, rebuilding around thick, heavy-muscled cattle rather than chasing low birth weights. Their program earned the 2007 ACA Pioneer Award, 2016 ACA Purebred Breeder of the Year, and 2022 ACA 50-Year Breeder Award, highlighted by ANJOU PUREPOWER 184Y topping the 2011 Alberta Select Sale. Today, Philippe continues pairing Full French foundations with modern performance genetics.

"All through the '70s, '80s and '90s, all the way through, we always used Full French bulls, even on our purebred cows. After 50 years, they all look Full French." — Philippe Lusson
