XTC TWO YEAR OLD HORNED HEREFORD BULLS

XTC Ranches strives to raise ranch ready cattle with a focus on feet and fleshing ability. We require easy doing cattle here in Eastend, and want to provide our customers with the same low maintenance type of cattle. We believe that when we sell bulls to the commercial rancher, the bull will adapt to any environment they are put in. Our cows are raised on primarily native grass year round, and we try to winter graze all of the cows as far into winter that mother nature allows us to do. Between April 1-5 the cows are cut off from feed and are moved to stockpiled native grass in large fields to calve out, with using only the natural topography of the ranch for shelter. Therefore, we allow our environment to be one of our best selection tools. The bulls are grown out slowly the first winter with minimal grain intake, and are grassed in the summer with a few pounds of supplemental pellets. The bulls spent the end of summer and fall on about 70 acres of grass while we started getting them ready for the sale. They remained on this chunk of ground right up until a couple weeks before the sale. From short marked goggle eyes to yellow feathernecks we feel there is a bull here for everyone. No bulls have had their feet trimmed.

I like this lot 1 bull a lot. To me, its all about the cow families here. This guy combines the two best cows on this ranch. 7E (paternal granddam) and 25Z (dam). We sold 29K as a calf in our sale a few years ago to Wilson Colony. We have now rented him back for 3 years. Currently he is our favourite herd bull used on the place. 25Z has produced us over 50,000 worth of natural sons sold. Last years bull sold for 14,000 to Wilson and two years ago her son sold to Dryden Doege for 13,500. Take the pedigree aside, there isnt a more athletic, thicker, wider topped bull in our offering. Just a May 15th bull. 25Z is coming 14 years old and still producing at a high level here. She is an elite cow within our breed. Full pigment on the other eye. Have a look at the video.

A really good 29K son here. Very long sided, smooth, stylish, pigmented. 66E is one of our last 79Y daughters. They were great cows. I think 85M is a real herd bull in the making. Total package. One of our heaviest bulls at weaning. Great disposition on this good prospect. We are as high on 29K as we have been on any sire here before. First year we used him as a calf, so didnt put many with him. Expect a larger crop out him the next 2 years.

Good meat and potatoes bull here that should pass on all the great traits in this guys pedigree. 11E has been a great producer for us. Daughters are always near the top of the pen and are always retained. If I was to pick a bull out of this group for our commercial herd I would start here. Great hair, long, deep, good foot backed by a really solid pedigree.

He was suppose to go in the bull sale as a yearling last year, but we pulled him out because we really felt we wanted to feature him in our sale as a 2 year old this year. 2 year olds are our program and it was important that he was held back. Im glad we did, he will get everyones attention sale day. There is a good chance he walks into the ring to start the sale on Jan 30th.

Fair bit of Ulrich breeding on this guy. We went to Peters dispersal sales with quality not quantity in mind. We feel like over the course of the 2 sales we picked 4 very good females that are all still here thriving. 06H has a great udder, and her replacement this year was retained. 168M has a bit of pep to his step, but wow will he ever breed a bunch of cows. If you like them red, here you go. A late birthdate, and a young mom, got this guy adjusted up to a pretty impressive WW.

Almost a mirror image to his dad 127K who was our high selling bull a couple years ago to Dustin Grant. We used 127K as a yearling. 127K is a son of our great 37E cow that has now raised bulls for Joe Burgess (2), Dustin Grant, and Blaine and Glenn Brost. That's pretty darn good company. This operation could not function properly without him. Suzy helps out with riding and moving cows, processing days and various other jobs. These bulls look the way they do in large part to Luke's care and attention throughout the year. We are grateful for everything they do! We decided to throw 2 hereford yearling heifer bulls in the sale because we think there will be demand for heifer bulls for a couple years here. They should work well. 225G raised our high seller a couple years ago to Allemands. This guy is good too, it'll be hard to find faults. Keep repeating myself here, but these reds are consistent and good.

Here is our first bull out of the Alexander bull we bought a few years ago who has turned into everything we expected him to be when we picked him out and he sold as their high selling bull that year. Only one black bull for sale this year, but he is a good one. Buy with a ton of confidence.

136E phenotypically is my favourite cow. You couldn't draw her up any better. As pretty and perfect as they come. Really unfortunate that I am terrible at taking pictures of cows. 6Z was a great producer for us. Just a MAY 20th bull. This guy is good and will definitely get your attention.

Another good Mclovin. Use this guy on heifers or cows. I am confident he will work on both. Or use him for a year on heifers and then graduate him up to the cows. Old Mclovin was used on heifers here and there with success. Knowing the bottom of the pedigree here really well, I am very confident he will work like a dream. Have a good look.

We used 169H on heifers for 3 years with great success. 106E got bred with heifers that year. We used 66M on our commercial heifers this summer. 66M and 51M bred in a 9 section field and came out after 45 days in respectable shape. They are a little behind the others, but are catching up. Sleep all night kind of heifer bull here.

51M is out of a first calver. Like mentioned, he is behind and bred this summer. By breeding season he will look no different then the rest. He is a good solid sure fire heifer bull that will let the heifers get a good start in life. Extremely docile.

Cool calf here. Should work like a dream on heifers. Yes he is only an April calf, but give this guy time and he should turn into a really solid ranch bull that you should be able to use on heifers for at least 3 years. Low birthweight bloodlines top and bottom. Buy with a ton of confidence.

April 25th calf. Pretty impressive heifer bull prospect here. Let us grow them out until June and let him go breed and sleep all night next April. Great low birthweight bloodline here.
